

Greg Kessler

Kessler is an abstract painter who draws figures. He creates mythological characters, weaving the historical with the contemporary. Kessler's work is figurative with bold color and complex backgrounds. His art is expressionistic, gestural and cartoony.

His influences include Pablo Picasso and Jackson Pollack.

Greg Kessler holds an MFA from Yale and a BFA from Carnegie Mellon. He has been painting in New York City since 1990. Kessler has had one-person shows in New York, Washington, DC, and Texas and group shows at Columbia University, American University and in Austria. His work can be viewed here:
www.gregkessler.net

gregkessler.net

artnet.com

kesslergregv@gmail.com