

ARTIST BIO

Ann Hamilton is a designer and textile artist who studied fashion design at Parsons School of Design and has been studying watercolor for several years. Having worked in New York City in knitwear design, millinery, costume design and bridalwear she now restores vintage bridal gowns and creates textile art.

Ann has recently exhibited her work in New York, Ireland and England.